Death of people due to water borne diseases

1586. SHRI GURUDAS DAS GUPTA: Will the Minister of HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that 15 lakhs people die every year in India due to water borne diseases and if so, the break-up of the same state-wise;

(b) what is the total number of villages where potable water is still not available; and

(c) whether Government would ensure drinking water availability for all the population by the year 2000 A.D.?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE (KUMARI SAROJ KHAPARDE): (a) Among water borne diseases, only cholera is notifiable. So there is no estimate of people dying every year due to water borne diseases in the country. However, Central Bureau of Health Intelligence compiles data on Cholera/Gastroentritis/Enteric fever (Typhoid), Viral Hepatitis and Polio-myelitis on the basis of information received from the State Health Authorities from the medical institutions only. The statements I, II, III, IV & V show cases and deaths during 1987 and 1988 due to cholera, Gastro-entritis, Enteric fever (Typhoid) Viral Hepatitis and Poliomyelitis. [See Appendix CXLVIII, Annexure No. 71].

(b) and (c) As per reports received so far, 84,700 problem villages fully and 50129 problem village partially were covered during the first 3 years of the VII Plan. Action Plan for coverage of 32698 problem villages in 1988-89 is under implementation. It is proposed to cover all the problem villages by the Year 2000 A.D.
